Sir Mokshagundam Vishweshwaraya, also spelled as the Sir Mokshagondam Vishweshwarayya, popularly known as Sir MV (15 September 1860 – 12 April 1962) was an Indian Chief civil engineer, scholar, statesman, politician and the 19th Diwan (governor) of Mysore, who served from 1912 to 1919. He received India's highest honour, the Bharat Ratna, in 1955. He was knighted as a Knight Commander of the British Indian Empire (KCIE) by King George V for his contributions to the public good. 15 September is celebrated as Engineer's Day in India in his memory. He is held in high regard as a pre-eminent Engineer of India. He was chief engineer responsible for the construction of the Krishna Raja Sagara dam in the North-West suburb of Mysuru city and chief engineer of the flood protection system for the city of Hyderabad.

Every year, Department of Electrical & Electronics Engineering Celebrate "Engineer's Day". This year, on this Occasion, Department conducted a Poster Competition for Students.
